Will farmers please read this circular and be governed by its advice thereby saving themselves thousands of dollars and much trouble and contention with buyers:

Richmond, Va., July 3rd, 1884. At a general meeting of the members of the Richmond Grain and Cotton Exchange, held this day, the following resolutions were unanimous-

WHEREAS. The continued rain, which from the best information before us, extends over the greater portion of the State, is calculated to do serious injury to the Wheat crop, and cause the same to be shipped to market in damp and damaged condition, thus causing loss and serious inconvenience to all interested in handling the crop: therefore, be it resolved by the Richmond Grain and Cotton Ex- Hill, some twelve miles north of the

It being a well ascertained fact that Wheat will dry in the shock more thoroughly in three to five days of good weather, than in as many weeks after it has been threshed, we feel that it is greatly to the interest of farmers that it should not be threshed while damp; and the more especially so since drying in bulk is attended with much expense, labor and inconvenience, while there are many who claim that Wheat when threshed damp can never be restored to its original quality by the effort to dry, but that each recurrence of long continued wet weather will bring back upon it the evidence of dampness and its unsound or damaged smell.

Damp Wheat has to be sold at from 10 to 25 cents per bushel less than dry Howe's Jewelry store. Mr. Gorman wheat, and there are often times when from want of space in which any price.

The Hoosier Runner Press Dri

It having been demonstrated by carefully conducted practical tests tha the probabilities of the germination of seed wheat are greatly increased by packing the earth on the seed at time of drilling, and that in consequence, the quantity of seed can safely be reduced to ½ or ⅓ of the amount usually sown, with full assurance that the yield will also be greatly increased, we turned our most careful attention to the construction of a drill with Press Wheels for packing the earth on the seed, in order to place within the reach of farmers these very desirable results and enable them to largely increase the profits of wheat raising.

The result of our labor is the Hoosier Runner Press Drill, which we take

HOW AN AFRICAN EXPLORER LOST

A certain famous African explorer was once the victim of one of those extremely distressing hitches which amount to the complete and final separation of those who would otherwise have been united for better, for worse. He had fallen deeply in love with a young Greek maiden whom he met in Crete. He afterward declared that never, before or since, had he beheld so sweet and beautiful a creature. Having sought out the American Consul, he revealed to him the state of his heart. The Consul, who had himself married a Greek lady, bade him not despair, took him forthwith to the house of his inamorata, and presented bim to her mother, who was a widow. The negotiations were conducted successfully; at the end of a week he was an accepted lover, and in a fortnight the day for the wedding had arrived. All this while he had seen the young lady once a day, always in the presence of her mother, and on the day before the intended marriage he had been permitted for the first time to take her hand and imprint upon it a chaste salute. The hour appointed for the wedding found the bridegroom dressed for the ceremony and awaiting the happy moment. There enter to him at this juncture three Greeks, whom he has who introduces them as brothers of the bride-elect. They produce a parchment, which the interpreter explains. It is a deed of settlement, which binds the bridegroom to pay so much a year to the mother and to each brother, and so much to his wife, and to disburse the first installment on the spot. In vain the unlucky traveler explains that he is worth nothing and cannot pay. The brothers look daggers, the interpreter

There are certain youths in this day and generation who consider themselves thoroughly proficient in the art susceptible. They profess to know all the flatterings going on in the feminine breast. The Break-Their-Hearts Young Man is of this class. He spends his time in crushing the little flutterings of the opposite sex. His only aim in getting acquainted is for the purpose of demolishing the heart of his newly made friend. He considers it very smart to pour out honeyed words and act in a sweet way so as to gain the affection of heart, or tries to, for the fun of it. All the pain, sorrow and sadness which may result from his conduct do not trouble him in the least-that is the business of the Break-Their-Hearts Young Man.

It is a fortunate thing that the Break-Their-Hearts Young Man is very often unsuccessful. Only sentimental girls, as a general thing, are victimized by him. Sensible girls abhor him, or else toy with him for the fun of it. He is left severely alone by those who know what affection really is. They see through him and know him to be a hollow mockery. His character won't stand the least strain-it is too hypocritical and unstable.

FINDING THE DEPTHS OF THE SEA. A Russian naval officer has invented a very ingenious apparatus for ascertaining the depth of the sea without the use of a costly and heavy line. Indeed, no line at all is used. "The instrument consists of a piece of lead, a small wheel with a contrivance for registering the number of revolutious, and a float, While the apparatus sinks the wheel revolves, and the registered revolution indicates the depth. When the bottom is reached the lead becomes detached, the ficat begins to act, and the machine shoots up to the surface, where it can easily be fished up by a net and the register read off.

HOSPITALITY.

In Juvenal's time the salary of a good Over beyond Strasburg I came upon a farmer sitting on a log in front of a house which I at first took to be a stable, because a mule stood with his head inside. He had an acre or two cleared on the hillside, but he was a hard-up man, and no mistake. I dismounted to talk to him about the battlefield of Cross Keys, and after a while he said ;

PERHAPS, BUT I GUESS NOT.

The Secretary of the Lime-Kiln Club announced a communication from Obaliah Glassfoot, of New York, saying that he was an enthusiast on the subject of discovering the North pole, and adding that he would be perfectly willing to take command of an expedition fitted out by the colored race of America for such purpose. He argued that the black man had never yet done anything to engrave his name on the scrolls of fame, and that this golden opportunity should not be permitted to slip away. Immediately upon the reading of the letter Paramount Baxter arose and offered a resolution to the effect that the Lime-Kiln Club at once appoint a com mittee of three, with power to send for persons and papers, to discover the North pole. The resolution was seconded by thirty voices, and there was a slight crook to the end of the President's

Some of the most eminent scientific men now accept the view taken by Adhemar, namely, that continents have not been depressed, but overflowed by the ocean. Owing to the precession of the equinoxes, the mass of water is transferred from one hemisphere to the other once in 10,500 years, and the sun emains eight days longer in one hemisphere than in the other. At the present time the winters of the Southern pole are eight days longer than with us; the ice continent has consequently formed there, and the mass of ocean is to be found in the southern hemisphere, and the ice covers a space upon and around the South pole more than twice the area of all Europe. The extreme of cold at the Antarctic pole was reached about 600 years ago, since which time the climate has been becoming milder, while that north of the equator has been growing colder.

ABOUT TEA-TASTING.

The tea-brokerage business was begun in a small way forty years ago, and has been constantly increasing until it has become an immense specialty. The commission is a half cent a pound, and the smallest amount that a broker will sell is five packages. He obtains samples from the importer and gives his customers an opportunity of carefully testing the article. Hence in a tes broker's office the kettle is always boiling, and the center-table has its extended array of teacups. The drawing is carefully weighed, and for one must turn a silver half dime, this being the usual weight. Generally a score of samples are tested at the same time, in order to make comparison. The tea-traders first try the aroma and then sip it in order to get the flavor. What nicety of taste must be required to fix values in this rapid manner! An expert tea-taster, however, will not only designate the price, but often specify the part of China in which the crop was grown. Teatasting is said to be a gift, and some can never succeed while others all at once display skill. A good taster must be of rather nervous temperament, because tea appeals to the nervous system, and the business is, therefore, one in which the latter is severaly tried and sometimes is shattered.

Tea brokers are sometimes obliged to taste 300 samples in a day, and during the business season 200 is an average. One reason for this excess is found in the fact that a broker may be employed to buy the entire stock for some important house. Hence he must exercise great care; but, while he makes great profits, his health suffers to a corresponding degree. The constant effect of such a stimulant indeed cannot be escaped. Tea enters the system by inmembrane, and lastly by the stomach. times better dat dey be divorced. They are, however, of sufficient importance to have a place in the medical record. The tea broker must also resign the social nature any mo' dan he does now. People of tea drinking, and when he comes home at night with a mouth irritated ried life brings out de faults which dey with professional tasting how annoying must be the announcement that "tea is ready." The leading tea brokers are rich men, but, as in many other special-'em continue to lib togedder am unjust ties, they have to pay for their success. -Troy Times.
